

October 2012

BIRTHDATE: September 6, 1942

NATIONALITY: Italian

HOME ADDRESS: Roma (Italy)

EMAIL: paolo.palazzi@gmail.com

EDUCATION:

1967 Degree in Statistics, University of Rome La Sapienza

1963 Bachelor of Arts (Statistics), University of Bologna

WORK EXPERIENCE

Nov. 2012 Retired

2008 - 2012 Full professor "Applied and development economics", Faculty of Statistics, University of Rome "La Sapienza"

2001 - 2007 Dean of the master on "Local development and economy of solidarity (SLES)"

2001 - 2008 Full professor "Development economics", Faculty of Statistics, University of Rome "La Sapienza"

1983 - 2001 Associate professor "Theory and Politics of Economic Development", Dipartimento di Scienze Economiche", Faculty of Statistics, University of Rome "La Sapienza".

1983 (Jan-Jul) Research Associate, Queens College, City University of New York

1979 - 1980 Research Associate, Institute for the Study of Social Change, University of California, Berkeley

1973 - 1982 Assistant professor, Istituto di Economia, Facolta` di Scienze Statistiche, University of Rome "La Sapienza"

1971 - 1972 Researcher at National Committee of Research (CNR)

1969 - 1970 Research fellowship, Facolta` di Scienze Statistiche, University of Rome "La Sapienza"

1967-1968 Army service

TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

1973 to 2012 I have been involved in teaching economics, for undergraduate, graduate and adult education. In the last nineteen years I taught courses in Development Theory by The Faculty of Statistics at The University of Rome La Sapienza.

RESEARCH FIELDS

Topics related to economic development. In particular the problems concerning the measure and the comparison of the economic development levels among countries. Also problems of the role of public expenditure in the economic development.

PUBLICATIONS